

Cookies Policy

Last updated: 27 January, 2020

Global FinCTAx Services Ltd ("finctax", "us", "we" or "our") uses cookies on the <http://www.finctax.com> website (the "Service"). By using the Service, you consent to the use of cookies.

Our Cookies Policy explains what cookies are, how we use them, how third-parties we may partner with may use cookies on the Service, your choices regarding cookies and further information about cookies.

What are cookies

Cookies are small pieces of text sent by your web browser by a website you visit. A cookie file is stored in your web browser and allows the Service or a third-party to recognize you and make your next visit easier and the Service more useful to you.

Cookies can be "persistent" or "session" cookies. Persistent cookies remain on your personal computer or mobile device when you go offline, while session cookies are deleted as soon as you close your web browser.

How finctax uses cookies

When you use and access the Service, we may place a number of cookies files in your web browser.

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- To enable certain functions of the Service
- We use both session and persistent cookies on the Service and we use different types of cookies to run the Service:
- Essential cookies. We may use essential cookies to authenticate users and prevent fraudulent use of user accounts.
- This site also includes third party technical functions in order to improve the service, i.e. YouTube video players. These functions can use anonymized cookies, or other cookies only when are activated: more technical details about their behavior are in the following description.

YouTube cookies

Our YouTube videos have privacy-enhanced mode enabled: therefore, YouTube won't store information about our visitors, unless they play the video, according to the Google-YouTube guide:
